Three BYU Professors Receive Appointments As Department Heads

The College of Biological and Agricultural Sciences has three new department chairmen for the 1961-62 school year, announced President Ernest L. Wilkinson.

DR. RAYMOND B. FARNSWORTH, professor of agriculture, succeeds Dr. R. Chase Allred as chairman of the Agronomy Department. Dr. Farnsworth received his Bachelor of Science Degree at Brigham Young University in 1937 and his Master's in soil bacteriology from the University of Massachusetts.

He then attended Ohio State University where he earned his Ph.D. in 1941 in soil physics and did research there. He is a member of the American Society of Agronomy and the Soil Science Society of America.

In the bacteriology Dept. Dr. Richard D. Sagers, assistant professor, will succeed Dr. David M. Donaldson. Dr. Sagers attended BYU where he received his Master's Degree in bacteriology.

He obtained his Doctorate Degree from the University of Illinois in 1958 and worked in Biochemistry there. He then came to BYU as a professor in the Bacteriology Dept. Dr. Sagers is also a National Science Foundation Fellow.

DR. BERTRAND F. HARRISON, professor of Botany, new chairman of Botany Dept., succeeds Dr. Kent H. McKnight. Dr. Harrison received his Bachelor's and Master's Degrees at BYU and went to the University of Chicago to earn his Ph.D. in botany. He has formerly done research at the American Smelting and Refining Company and is a member of the Botanical Society of America and the American Association of Plant Physiologists.

Surgeon To Speak At Forum

Authority on lung cancer and world famous chest surgeon, Dr. Alton Ochsner will be the final forum speaker in the 1960-61 series.

DR. OCHSNER, who will be awarded the honorary doctor of science degree at Brigham Young University commencement, is considered to be probably one of the most honored physician-surgeons in the world. He received the M.D. at Washington University in 1920, and trained at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis; August Hospital, Chicago; and University of Zurich, Switzerland; and University of Frankfurt, Germany.

During and in addition to his surgical practice of 40 years, Dr. Ochsner has served as professor of surgery at Northwestern, Wisconsin and Tulane Universities and senior surgeon at Charity Hospital in Louisiana.

HE IS on the editorial board of "Cancer," "Quarterly Review of Surgery," "American Surgeon" and 10 other medical journals. He is also author of three books, "Varicose Veins," "Christophers Minor Surgery," "Smoking and Cancer" and has written sections in 20 other books.

Dr. Ochsner has received 33 honorary degrees, professorships and citations for merit and appreciation. He is a member of 25 medical and surgical associations and holds honorary memberships in 33 others in the United States, Latin America and the Orient.

Wye Magazine Ready, Goes on Sale Monday

"Three Tears I'll Shed," "Mrs. Scarborough Builds Tract Houses" and "The Roaring Nineties" are the titles of the Wye magazine, which will go on sale for 25 cents Monday.

The 1961 edition of the student publication, under editor Larry McBride, is more than three times longer than ever before.

g two' Confine Talks U.S.-Russian Issues

ASHINGTON, May 19 (UPI)—President Kennedy and Premier Nikita Khrushchev will meet in Vienna June 3-4 for a general exchange of "major" U.S.-Soviet differences, the White House announced today.

The White House said the conference will provide "a convenient opportunity for the first personal conference between President and Premier."

LONG THE Vienna meeting Kennedy will travel to a brief session with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

phasized that the Kennedy-Khrushchev conference will be confined to "the major issues which affect us" between the United States and Russia.

THE HOUSE statement said the "Big Two" will not try to reach agreements on cold war issues in other countries.

President will have his first meeting with Khrushchev after his previously announced talks with President Charles De Gaulle in Paris, May 31-June 2.

fore. It is 64 pages long and features poems—over 20 of them—six short stories and five essays.

A SPECIAL feature is a photo-essay by Bell G. Francis of pictures taken last summer in San Miguel, Mexico.

The magazine, according to editor McBride, combines reality and human elements in a way that should interest the entire student body.

A number of the works in the magazine have won prizes in state and national contests.

"I only feel sorry when I realize I have not fully realized the possibility for failing to ease the mind of the people and that I pledged the burden of my beloved people for all the realities of the nation which led to the military revolution."

The Stagline

by Dennis Doyle

SAVE YOUR CONFEDERATE MONEY, the South rise again! And rise it shall, as the Men of Athens put their annual extravaganza, the Dixie Ball Friday, May 13. Men, Groves, the Silver Liners, and Athenians, will be represented this year by Miss Elka Joubert, who was crowned last week at the Coronation Ball. (Grazes "Rin") On Saturday the Second Day Activities will be held at Camp Williams, with Athenians and their dates swimming, playing games, and dancing until late in the night.

There! Having started my column with an unprejudiced bang, I will continue on to some of the other activities taking place this weekend. The mountains seem to be a favorite spot these days as we find...

The Cami Les swimming, horseback riding, and ending with a pot-luck dinner up at Mountain Spa, Saturday at the buddy party. To some people, buddy parties seem synonymous with revenge parties, but this isn't entirely true.

The Di Chi's, who, having been washed out at Brights Canyon due to flash floods, are having an overnight out Friday at Page School. Their sponsors will speak to them for a while, after which they will hold a testimony meeting. The following morning they will try vainly to eat breakfast, playing games, and dancing until late in the night.

The Nautilus are all getting together Friday in the Salt Creek's for a picnic, in which they will give "Summer Grasscapes," "Curvy Carla," and "Nice Lovelly, Lovable," awards. They will present some talent from the unit, and then, after a sleepless night, they will down their breakfast, and make like the Happy-Wanderer up the hillside.

Then of course, Saturday night the OST's and the boys from Bricker's will have their bi-weekly exchange up in canyon. Not much to be said there, because I don't know anything else.

Hmm... seems as if Friday night the ToKalons will hold their annual spring outing at the MIA Home, at which a scholarship banquet will be enjoyed. Those cloths with the grades get a special seat at the head of the table and the others get to sit and eat on the floor. Early the following morning the girls will rise to a sunrise testimonial, after which we will tramp off to Stewart Falls and return in time for breakfast.

Val Norns will congratulate at Judy Firmage's ranch Friday to partake of an honors banquet, wherein accomplishments and talents of the various girls will be honored. No officers will officially take over and senior girls will be given a tear-ridden farewell.

The Afio Mai's African affiliate, the Cannibal Club, will hold its annual Dinner-Dance Saturday, in the La Brea Tent Pits. The dance will take place before the banquet, at which several surprised guests will be served. (Thanks Stan)

DELTA PHI DINNER-DANCERS—Jerry Mikkelsen, Shanna Seely, Syd Dyal and Kay Wheedon get an early start for the annual dinner-dance which will be part of the Delta Phi convention this weekend.

Y Chapter of Delta Phi...

Unit Hosts Convention, Dance

Members of Delta Phi national honorary fraternity from Utah, and Arizona will gather in Salt Lake City Saturday for the 10th annual convention of the group.

The Brigham Young University Y Chapter will host this year's meetings. The Y Chapter is also handling the arrangements for the entertainment in the evening—a formal dinner-dance which will be held in the Prudential Federal Savings Building.

Delta Phi dates at the dinner-dance will receive both dinner corsages and a favor.

DIAMOND JUBILEE

As the school year comes to an end, campus couples seem to be winding up dating relationships with a pin or a ring at an even greater rate than usual. Just note some of the latest joiners in the ranks of the soon-to-be married masses.

Lawrin Greene, senior resident in Budge Hall and YWMIA president of the BYU 17th Ward, has taken up wearing an Inter-collegiate Knight pin, courtesy of Larry King, a sophomore in pre-medicine who has filled a mission in Brazil. She is a junior from Glendale, Calif., majoring in human development and family relationships. He hails from Burbank, Calif., and will act at IK scribe next year.

Elise Macfarlane, Pittsburgh, Calif., sophomore surprised her Di Chi sisters Thursday night by announcing her engagement to Jon Lawson, a senior from Hawthorne, Calif., majoring in sociology and a member of the Athenian unit.

Emalou Webb, a freshman sociology major from Los Angeles, Calif., and member of Val Norn social unit, is pinned to Viking Garry Callis, a Provo sophomore business major who has filled a mission in Australia.

Laura Hobbs, a junior clothing and textiles major from Palisades, Idaho is making distant wedding plans with Leo Limming, a Whittier, Calif., freshman majoring in sociology.

Julie Pennock, a junior from Twin Falls, Idaho majoring in nursing, will be married June 1 to Wayne Moss, a Lewiston, Calif., freshman majoring in art.

Marilyn Fox, a sophomore from Spokane, Wash., majoring in clothing and textiles, became engaged to Bob Church at the ToKalon dinner-dance. He is a junior in business management from Mesa, Ariz., and member of Phi Tau who has filled a mission in the Northwestern states.

THE COUGARS are currently riding along on their 22-game winning streak with high hopes of being the first club in Western Division baseball history to go through the division's 12-game slate undefeated.

Anything less than a two-game sweep against the Uttes would be frowned upon by the Cougars and their coach Glen Tuckett, for the Cougars would like nothing better than to wave their 12-0 pennant in front of them as they embark next week for the district playoffs.

THE UTES, on the other hand, would like nothing more than to hand the Cougars a couple of losses. The fact that the Cougars are 2-0 against the Uttes already this season will undoubtedly add fuel to the Injun victory fires.

Coach Glen Tuckett is expected to go with right-hander Bob Noel (4-4) on Friday's home game. Noel, the former ARTZ, senior, has victories over every club in the conference except the Uttes.

In the first meeting of the two clubs, Noel was touched for three home runs by the Redskins before he gave way for reliever Bob Burns, who put the rambling Uttes back on the right track and picked up the win.

BURCH (1-0) will be counted on for relief again Friday and Saturday if the need arises.

Coach Tuckett will probably counter with ace Bob Mosteller (8-0) Saturday in Salt Lake City.

FOR THE UTES, coach Pres Summerhays will probably go with right-hander Harold Warfle Friday and Howard Van Woerkom, another right-hander, Saturday in Salt Lake City.

The Uttes have one win over Warfle, a tight 6-4 victory at Provo, but they have yet to face Van Woerkom.

Facts Confront Hi-Sitting Cats. Disturbing Ones

Some of these long, impressive chapters entered in the conference and division record books by Brigham Young University's track and field stars are now in the process of being re-written.

SUCH IS THE disturbing fact confronting the Cougars as they set the stage for the Western Division track and field meet in Provo, this weekend.

If the Division record book is any criteria, BYU is about to be exposed to the most exhausting onslaught of individual talent ever brought together for a league meet.

COACH CLARENCE ROBINSON's powerful Mountain Cats, whose might has been virtually uncontested the past eight seasons, will be the ones to benefit under the advance notices. But they will be the first to admit there will be plenty of blue ribbon talent among opposing performers in Cougar Stadium Saturday.

There is plenty of evidence to indicate the individual track talent, if not team depth, at other schools is definitely on the up-grade.

For example, at the start of the '61 season the Cougars either held or were co-holders of ten of the 12 Division track and field records. Today, after a little more than two months of action, the Cougars hold only two unduplicated marks, plus two they also share.

Cleaning Up Nets Profits For Students

by Orineta Sumson

University Freshmen writer
Brigham Young University is "teaming" with teams of every kind—tennis, baseball, track, swimming, debate, drama, football and basketball. But among them all is a unique group which might well be called "Team of the Bucket Brigades."

Three men students armed with ladders, buckets, sponges, ammonia and cleaning powder spent Saturday morning Saturday in cooperation with workmen to clean the walls and windows of Utah County homes and office buildings. These three husky students have already scrubbed the walls and windows in 30 homes and expect to clean approximately 60 more this spring.

THE TEAM makes its contract, estimates the cost of the job and is back in a few days to relieve the housewife of a lot of back-breaking work. What the team can accomplish in a matter of hours what it would take a woman days or even weeks to do.

Big tall Nells Ludlow, a senior for psychology major from Spanish Fork, stepped right up on the first day of the spring cleaning and began to scrub the ceiling Ron Doty, bacteriology major from Colton, Calif., pitches in to help while Wade Merrill starts scrubbing the walls. They can clean an eight-room house in about six hours and do a good job of it too. Ron and Nells will graduate this year. Wade is a sophomore from Lorenzo, Idaho.

A GROUP organized each spring by the BYU Placement Bureau, but from then on the boys are off their own. Only their individual efforts can win them additional jobs.

Newest Singing Group . . .

Daarts Become Popular

The "Daarts," a young singing group gradually moving up the national ratings, went to Las Vegas to work for awhile. They were so successful that they decided to stay, and now tour the West coast.

They had their problems, however. Erikki Kerttula, a native of Finland, and bass singer in the group, was in the United States on a student visa. His visa was scheduled to expire April 2, 1961.

IN AN EFFORT to keep Erikki from being deported and to keep the group together, they were appointed as official emissaries for the city of Las Vegas. Eventually, they were granted a special act of Congress which allowed Kerttula to remain in the U. S.

Kerttula came to the States to attend the Brigham Young University, and later became associated with the three fellows and one girl who call themselves the Daarts.

HE WAS born in Viipuri, Finland. During the war, his family was driven out twice, and at the present time, this area belongs to Russia.

Erikki joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in 1952, and at the age of 17 was called to serve a mission for the Church in Sweden. Following his mission, he entered the service where he was chosen as the "Pick Hit of the Week" in Detroit and Philadelphia.

He was discharged as a second Lieutenant.

WHILE IN FINLAND, Kerttula met an LDS missionary from Roosevelt, Utah, by the name of Keith Neilson. They later met in Ogden, Utah, Neilson at the time was a member of a singing quartette called the Daarts, and one of the members had fallen out of the group, leaving a vacancy.

The Daarts had a television engagement in two days, and since Erikki had had previous singing experience, he was asked to join.

WITH TWO days' practice they fulfilled their engagement with another member of the quartette left for the armed service they continued as a trio, consisting of Dale Lofthouse of Willard, Utah, Keith Neilson, and Kerttula.

Lofthouse attended Utah State and Snow College.

AS A TRIO the Daarts had an engagement at Grand Canyon last year where they cooked during the day and sang at night. After fulfilling their engagement was Bobbi Staheli (pronounced "Staley") from St. George, Utah. She later started singing with the group.

Not only have the Daarts made a name for themselves in nightclubs and entertainment, but also with their latest recording recorded on Dyno records "Beloved Stranger" written by Bobbi.

THE RECORD is listed on the Variety Charts as No. 41 in the nation. Radio station KALL in Salt Lake City, lists it as No. 4. Just recently, the Daarts were chosen as the "Pick Hit of the Week" in Detroit and Philadelphia.

Since Keith, Dale and Erikki have fulfilled missions for the Church, the group performs for as many Church functions as possible in their supper club appearances.

THE DAARTS—Dale Lofthouse (kneeling), Erikki Kerttula, Keith Neilson and Bobbi Staheli all play guitars and write songs as well as sing. Their original music ranges from folk and western to rock and roll.
